

Social Responsibility

Even though the Law Office of Kastriot Frashëri, established in 2004, was initially a small and modest firm, it has always been strongly committed to corporate social responsibility, assisting hundreds of individuals free of charge, as well as some journalists, non-profitable organizations and small businesses without sufficient incomes to pay a lawyer for the solution of their problems before the institutions or the courts of Albania.

Our long understanding of social responsibility as an integral part of our attorney and firm's culture includes the support provided to a wide range of individuals in need in Tirana, such as: men, women, families, NGOs and media.

The Tirana Law Office - Frashëri Law Firm is also devoted for many years and in every time to charitable activities and has provided free or discount legal services to many individuals or subjects.
